history of civilization of malay people in southeast asia

this remarkable book brings to an english speaking audience detailed scholarship originally conceived and written in the malay language and with a malay perspective it examines the nature of monarchy in the malay world which includes present day malaysian and indonesia before and during the onset of western colonialism when the malay world was ruled by a large number of separate muslim sultanates it highlights that monarchs were the highest authority in the social political legal and economic system rather than the government of a clearly defined territory the notion of dewaraja god king and what a model monarch s attributes should be and how the monarch s role related to islamic principles including the islamic ideal of the caliph of god meting out fair judgement and punishment two prominent and pivotal concepts of traditional malay society that of daulat sovereignty and derhaka disloyalty are here analysed and evaluated against the background of the period of absolute monarchy moreover this volume also discusses the parts played by leading ministers and viziers who often exercised enormous power explores the role of monarchs in managing and regulating economic activity and outlines differences between the different sultanates

the book addresses questions such as how should historians treat the earlier pasts of each country and the nationalism that guided the nation building tasks where did political culture come in especially when dealing with modern challenges of class secularism and ethnicity what part do external or regional pressures play when the nations are still being built the authors have thought deeply about the issues of writing nation building histories and have tried to put them not only in the perspective of southeast asian developments of the past five decades but also the larger areas of historiography today
